UGRA River Clean Up Art Contest Winners

The top artists in UGRA's River Clean Up art contest to design the event t-shirt were recognized recently by UGRA's Outreach and Education Committee Chair, Maggie Snow. The design contest winner, Madellyn Fiedler, received a certificate of achievement and a $200 check. This is the fifth time Madellyn's art has won top prize in the contest as her designs were also featured on the 2019, 2021, 2023, and 2024 River Clean Up t-shirts. Second place winner, Isabella Massey, and third place winner, Olivia Wrase, received certificates of achievement and $100 and $50 checks, respectively. Wrase, Massey, and Fiedler are all Tivy High School students having just finished 9th, 10, and 12th grade respectively. "We appreciate all the students who submitted a design for this year's River Clean Up. It was difficult to pick just one winner, but we hope that all of the artwork inspires each of us to protect our river," said Snow.
